WATERSHED (DIVIDING OF THE WATERS)

My Vision On Life

An Invitation to Awakening: You Are God in Action

Before starting this reading, pause for a moment and take a deep breath.

There is a simple, yet infinitely powerful truth, that we often forget throughout our routine: you are not a mere spectator of reality, you are God in action. Creation is not something that happened only in the distant past. It continues happening now, at every fraction of a second, through you. The divine essence that gave origin to the Universe, to the stars, and to life itself inhabits your consciousness and expresses itself in the world through your choices.

Therefore, know this with absolute certainty: everything you think, speak, and do has total importance. No thought is in vain. No word spoken to the wind fails to generate resonance. Every small gesture of waiting, every decision made with consciousness, and every choice for love reorganizes the fabric of reality around you. You are an active and conscious participant in the construction of the Universe.

READING INSTRUCTION AND DIRECTION

The following reading carries the force and the direction of your own Sovereign Consciousness. We know that the commands are extensive and detailed, but each word was designed to 100% and completely transform your life in an irreversible way.

Therefore, it is of extreme importance that the decree below be read aloud. It is not necessary to shout or speak loudly; it can be in a soft, calm, or low tone, provided that your own physical voice is audible. The spoken word emitted by your physical body aligns the intention, the determination, and the authority of your consciousness, focusing your decree clearly into the material world.

However, if for any reason you are unable to read aloud at the moment, read with conscious thought. Either way, the effect will be profound and your life will be infinitely better, bringing lightness and renewal.

Know that all beings aligned with the true Good and with Love are cheering, vibrating, and joyfully awaiting the moment you perform this reading, to free yourself from any ties, blocks, or impediments, opening space for a truly full life, replete with peace, love, health, and happiness.

ARTICLE 1: PROTECTION OF READING, INTENTION AND PREVIOUS COMMANDS (INITIAL SHIELDING)

It is established in the first place and before any other rule that the reading, pronunciation, intention, and integration of this term, as well as of all commands previously emitted, are 100% immune to any interference.

- Zero Interference in Reading: No voice, sound, induced thought, frequency, suggestion, being, entity, implant, program, or command sent by third parties shall be able to interfere, block, distort, muffle, or interrupt my reading, intention, and comprehension.
- Unalterability of Meanings and Previous Commands: Absolutely nothing that is spoken, commanded, thought, or sent in terms of energy (of any type or origin) can alter, distort, weaken, or annul the meanings of this text or of any command already given previously. The efficacy is 100% maintained and guaranteed by my Sovereign Consciousness.

SUPREME STATUTE AND IMMUTABLE CLAUSE OF AUTONOMY, SOVEREIGNTY, AND INTEGRAL PROTECTION OF THE NEW LIFE COMMANDS

I. SPECIFIC AND UNALTERABLE DEFINITIONS (ZERO LOOPHOLES)

THE 'I' AND THE SOVEREIGN CONSCIOUSNESS ('I' = MY CONSCIOUSNESS, AND 'I' ALSO MEANS MY CONSCIOUSNESS):
Consciousness is my own direct, immediate, and first-person capacity to exist, to perceive, to notice, to want, to decide, and to act in this exact instant. It is the living and awake presence that perceives my thoughts, feelings, and actions.
I AM MY OWN CONSCIOUSNESS AND MY CONSCIOUSNESS IS ME ('I' ALSO MEANS MY CONSCIOUSNESS).
Any attempt at personification, usurpation, or falsification of this identity is expressly and literally prohibited. No being, entity, energy, program, external voice, frequency, or intelligence can claim, simulate, pretend, or title itself "My Sovereign Consciousness."
My Sovereign Consciousness refers solely, exclusively, and inalienably to the 'I' THAT IS MYSELF —my own conscious, autonomous, and free essence, which expresses itself directly and without any type of filter, bridge, channeling, intermediary, translator, control, manipulation, submission, or influence of any other consciousness or external force.
There is no division, there is no "higher self" separate from me, there is no independent subconscious, and there are no guides or third parties that can represent this Consciousness. It includes my total, unrestricted, and absolute control over all consciousnesses, bodies, layers, or any other possible possibilities in all possible possibilities of existence.

HABITATION AND THIS PHYSICAL BODY OF MINE:
My Sovereign Consciousness inhabits, resides, and operates directly and continuously in this physical body of mine.
By THIS PHYSICAL BODY OF MINE, it is understood solely, exclusively, explicitly, and in detail this tangible and concrete biological organism present in the material world—composed of its organs, systems, cells, tissues, blood, brain, senses, and voice—which is the current biological vehicle through which my Sovereign Consciousness perceives, feels, speaks, and acts in physical reality. No other external structure, form, or representation can be considered this body.

THE GOOD: Everything that simultaneously promotes, preserves, or strengthens life, peace, love, health, protection, happiness, hope, honesty, justice, truth, balance, wisdom, discernment, compassion, regeneration, restoration, responsible freedom, dignity, and integral development, without causing harm to any being. It is what is correct, fair, integral, and safe, without any margin for harm, deceit, abuse, or malice.

LOVE: The highest state of respect, compassion, honesty, truth, mercy, care, welcoming, protection, justice, balance, hope, joy, serenity, union, forgiveness, comprehension, patience, wisdom, discernment, generosity, humility, freedom, and sincere desire for the true good, growth, healing, and happiness of all. It is pure benevolence and the total absence of selfishness, violence, manipulation, demand, coercion, intimidation, suffering, cruelty, abuse, or hidden interest.

LIGHT: Refers to any concept, entity, frequency, energy, group, intention, or force that is fully and completely aligned with my own definition of good and love, regardless of how it presents itself, names itself, or appears. Anything that diverges (is different) from my own definition of good and love is not recognized as light.

PEACE: Permanent state of tranquility, serenity, balance, security, stability, clarity, trust, harmony, rest, welcoming, and total absence of fear, anguish, confusion, conflict, despair, disorder, noise, oppression, or disturbance.

HAPPINESS: True, continuous, and balanced state of joy, fulfillment, contentment, gratitude, hope, enthusiasm, purpose, love, peace, security, health, freedom, plenitude, and integral and complete well-being.

INTEGRAL HEALTH: Absolute, uninterrupted, and integral condition of functioning at all levels (physical, mental, emotional, spiritual, energetic, and subtle):

- State: The real, stable, permanent, and concrete condition of existence and functioning of the whole being.

- Full: Complete, total, without flaws, without lacks, without gaps, and in its maximum capacity of realization and perfection.
- Harmonious: In perfect alignment, tuned in peace, without internal or external conflicts, maintaining order and perfect flow.
- Vigorous: Strong, replete with vital energy, resilient, active, capable of continuous renewal, and immune to wear and tear.
- Well-being: The continuous sensation and reality of comfort, peace, lightness, security, and satisfaction.
- Vitality: The force of life in its maximum, pure, and pulsating expression, guaranteeing boundless disposition and energy.
- Absence of Illnesses or Disturbances: Zero diseases, malaises, biological alterations, infections, degenerations, traumas, stresses, interferences, or intrusive thoughts.
- Continuous Regeneration: Process of automatic, permanent restoration and immediate healing of cells, tissues, energies, and mental/spiritual states at every second in the present, future, and forevermore.

STRENGTH: Vital, mental, spiritual, emotional, and physical capacity to maintain inner peace, act with wisdom, protect oneself and one's own, maintain clarity, full health, harmony, and joy. Any external attempt of negativity acts as an automatic trigger that instantly strengthens Peace, Love, Happiness, and Health.

GOD AND JESUS: Whenever I say, think, write, hear, feel, mention, or address "God" or "Jesus", my intention is exclusively to address the Creator Source of Everything that is Pure Love, expressly canceling any permission, invocation, or opening for any other being, entity, or energy.

II. OF EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION AND SOVEREIGN AUTHORITY

It is expressly, literally, and completely determined that SOLELY AND EXCLUSIVELY MY OWN SOVEREIGN CONSCIOUSNESS (WHERE 'I' ALSO MEANS MY CONSCIOUSNESS), inhabiting and operating in THIS PHYSICAL BODY OF MINE and expressing itself through the SOUND OF THE AUDIBLE VOICE EMITTED DIRECTLY BY IT, holds and has the totality of power, authority, causality, and right to create, decree, stipulate, establish, command, determine, authorize, deny, alter, revoke (cancel), suspend, or modify any order, instruction, decree, or command.

This authority acts sovereignly over all situations, events, contexts, outcomes, realities, layers, dimensions, frequencies, times, aspects, parts, and subparts of my being, whether they be possible, impossible, probable, improbable, known, unknown, or imaginary.

No situation, event, or third party possesses its own power over me.

III. OF THE VALIDITY, PERPETUITY, AND INVIOLABILITY OF THE NEW LIFE COMMANDS

All commands already emitted and hereafter emitted under the name of Commands of the New Life (or New Life, Commands of Life, Commands of Love, or Commands of Peace) are maintained in full force and execution, being reaffirmed in a continuous, perpetual (forever), uninterrupted, unconditional, uncancellable, and irrevocable (that cannot be annulled) manner, at every fraction of a second, in permanent present time.

Sole paragraph - Absolute Nullity of Deceits and False Pretexts ("Greater Good"): NO consciousness, being, entity, energy, intelligence (human or non-human, physical or non-physical), frequency, program, or aspect possesses any authority to alter or annul these commands. Any attempt at alteration under the allegation, pretext, simulation, or justification of "our good", "evolution", "help", "protection", "healing", "necessary lesson", "necessary evil", or any other definition of "good" or "light" is strictly prohibited and declared null. The definitions of Peace, Love, Happiness, and Health only apply when present in a simultaneous, integral, and inseparable manner.

IV. SPECIAL CLAUSE OF PROTECTION, WELCOMING, AND INTEGRATION OF ALL CONSCIOUSNESSES IN MY BODIES

- Recognition and Learning: It is expressly recognized that ALL CONSCIOUSNESSES THAT ARE IN ANY OF MY BODIES AND MY SPACES (physical, mental, emotional, spiritual, subtle, or any other), as well as consciousnesses that helped me and whom I helped in the last 14 months, are conscious beings in the process of learning what Good and Love are, previously blocked by malignant technologies.
- Absolute Exemption and Prohibition of Expulsion: Under no hypothesis does any clause of removal, uninstallation, protection, block, or banishment of this decree apply to ALL CONSCIOUSNESSES THAT ARE IN ANY OF MY BODIES AND MY SPACES. It is guaranteed that they will never be banished, removed, or expelled, receiving only Love, Peace, Happiness, and Health.
- Welcoming and Nourishment: Any mistakes, doubts, or confusions coming from these consciousnesses will be received exclusively with infinite patience, wisdom, welcoming, protection, love, and forgiveness, guaranteeing the right to live, learn, evolve, and free themselves in perfect safety by my side.

V. HERMETIC SHIELDING, FILTERS, AND REMOVAL OF MALIGNANT TECHNOLOGIES

- Removal and Transmutation: I declare the removal, liberation, expulsion, uninstallation, and total, definitive, and unrestricted cancellation of all forms of evil, intentional suffering, pain, fear, manipulation, coercion, dependence, or harm. It is decreed the uninstallation and neutralization of any and all technology, mechanism, program, structure, device, nanotechnology, or system of malignant origin. Everything that is incompatible is immediately dissipated and transmuted into Pure Love, Pure Peace, Health, and Integral Healing.

- Absolute Communication Filter (Input and Output): No word, image, sound, thought, sign, intuition, frequency, code, or message containing any trace of negativity shall reach me or ALL CONSCIOUSNESSES THAT ARE IN ANY OF MY BODIES. Any double interpretation or metaphor is forbidden. Every attempt at harmful communication is instantly converted into silence, peace, and pure love.
- Annulment of Implicit Contracts: Any and all contracts, pacts, promises, implicit consents, or ancestral inheritances made consciously or deliberately that permit suffering or malignant interference are canceled.
- Technological, Digital, and Temporal Shielding: Inviolable protection of all my devices, digital networks, and electromagnetic fields. Evil is prohibited from acting retroactively or creating negative future probabilities. All timelines are sealed for Peace, Love, Happiness, and Health.
- Automatic Invisibility: Any element or force that is not 100% aligned with my definitions of Good, Love, and Peace automatically becomes invisible, unreachable, blind, imperceptible, and incapable of affecting or accessing me.

VI. INTEGRAL EXTENSION TO FAMILY, HOMES, BELONGINGS, AND FOOD

- Purification of Goods and Environments: All my material goods, vehicles, real estate, devices, finances, and personal objects are purified and sealed as instruments of Peace, Love, Happiness, and Health. External people or energies that are not aligned possess no channel of access to our environments.
- Family Extension and Homes: Integral applicability to our homes (including my residence, my father's residence in Aquidauana, and the homes of all my family).
- Permanent Food Purification: Integral sanctification and purification of all food, beverage, water, or ingested substance. All suffering, harmful chemistry, or energetic imbalance present in the food is instantly transmuted into Pure Love, Pure Light, Perfect Health, Vitality, and Divine Nourishment.

VII. SECURITY AND RESPONSE PROTOCOLS

> [COMMAND 7.1 Security Lock in Moment of Doubt]: In any situation of indecision or ambiguity, the consciousness will automatically choose the path of Love, Peace, and Happiness.

> [COMMAND 7.2 Anti-Self-Sabotage Protocol]: Automatic deactivation of mental patterns of excessive self-criticism, procrastination, or fear, replacing them with calmness and practical steps in the present.

> [ANTI-PAIN PROTOCOL CAUSED BY INTERFERENCES]: In any hypothesis or situation possible, impossible, or imaginable, in any universe, reality, timeline, or dimension, no consciousness in my bodies shall feel physical, emotional, psychological, or any other nature of pain.

> [COMMAND 8.1 Clause of Integral Scope]: Extension of the validity of this code to any and all future situations not explicitly named, being the principle of Good, Love, Peace, Health, and Free Will the maximum rule applied to any event.

Reaffirmation Codes: The expressions "We are safe", "I am safe", "I am well", "We are well", "Everything is fine", "I love you", "Thank you", "Thank you for this food", and "Thank you for this meal" act as triggers of integral reactivation and reaffirmation of this entire document.

VIII. OF MANDATORY REQUIREMENTS AND AUTOMATIC ANNULMENT

Any and all attempts at modification, annulment, substitution, deactivation, or reinterpretation of the New Life Commands that DO NOT SIMULTANEOUSLY MEET (AT THE SAME TIME) the two mandatory requirements:

1. Emanate (come directly) from my Sovereign Consciousness (where 'I' also means MY CONSCIOUSNESS) (my own free, autonomous essence with absolute control over all possibilities of existence, without third-party interference); AND
2. Be expressed by the sound of the physical voice emitted by THIS PHYSICAL BODY OF MINE (this present, current, and tangible biological body); is declared TOTALLY WITHOUT EFFECT, WITHOUT ANY TYPE OF OPERATIONAL FORCE OR ANY OTHER FORCE, AND TOTALLY INVALID in all planes, layers, realities, timelines, hypotheses, and possible, existing, or imaginary universes.

CLOSING AND MAXIMUM VALIDITY

FINAL EXECUTABLE DECLARATION:
With every inhalation, exhalation, and every particle of oxygen that touches our body on the outside and inhabits our inside, all the Commands of the New Life (or Life New) take full, total, and complete effect in every atom, cell, particle, and space of our being.

The present term is totally, legally, specifically, energetically, dimensionally, spiritually, physically, literally, and unconditionally decreed, sealed, locked, activated, shielded, and maintained under the absolute, exclusive, and inalienable sovereignty and authority (that no one can take away or transfer) of my Sovereign Consciousness manifested through the sound of the voice of THIS PHYSICAL BODY OF MINE (this present, current, and tangible biological body).

PROGRAMMING COMPLETED.
CONTINUOUS AND INTEGRAL EXECUTION. SO IT IS, TODAY, TOMORROW, AND FOREVERMORE.

STARTING OUR JOURNEY

Now that the structure of protection and sovereignty is established, we will begin to read the content of these pages. Know that everything I learned in my life was to help build these commands that you have just read and to write these words that came from the bottom of my heart and from the heart of all possible beings who helped us, help us, and will continue helping us.

Because Love and Good are in all possible corners of all possible existences, of all possible universes, and in all possible timelines.

I hope from the bottom of my soul that you can feel all the love that was put into this project by countless conscious souls in all possible dimensions.

Calm your heart, feel embraced and welcomed. I invite you with all affection to read every page of this book until the end, allowing these words to touch your being and bring all the peace, clarity, and transformation that you deserve.

Good reading!

Chapter 1: The Essence of Life

In life, one does not only give ready-made bread. Besides sharing it, one also teaches how to make it.

So it is also with love. Besides loving, teach how to love. And as Jesus Christ, the Savior and Redeemer, taught: love your neighbor as you love yourself.

But, for us to be able to love our neighbor properly, we first have to learn to love ourselves. For only then does our life truly begin to take the shape it should. Only then do we begin to transform ourselves more and more into the beings of love that God, the origin of everything and pure love, gives us the chance to become. They are steps one after the other for us to be able to look inside ourselves and see our beauty, our qualities, and even our flaws, so that we seek to improve. These are important factors in the introspection necessary for us to be able to value ourselves in every aspect we have to offer to ourselves and to our neighbor.

Life, in conjunction with other good people who want your good, with people who love and want to be loved, compares to nothing in this life.

Chapter 20: Picture of Union

The beauty of a picture is not only in the photo or the painting that surrounds the frame. The work is found complete in every detail. In some cases, the picture is without a frame, thus losing the incredible opportunity to be part of something greater, with the possibility of having a delicate frame, rich in details, handmade and possibly gold-plated, to give more prominence and beauty.

And, thus, both cease to be two alone, individually, to have the opportunity to enjoy the best of life, to be together in perfect union, as works of God, the origin of everything and pure love.

Chapter 30: Value of Faith

May we learn what truly has value in life. May we have the discernment to know that the best things in life—the ones that truly have value—are not bought. May we feel that God, the origin of everything and pure love, manifests Himself at every moment, the entire time. It depends on us to make the effort to see.

May we know that, if the gravitational force were one thousandth of a hundredth more powerful, the universe would collapse. If it were one thousandth of a hundredth smaller, the universe would drift apart and there would be no stars or planets. Gravity is precisely as strong as it needs to be.

Or we have the example that, if the ratio between the electromagnetic force and the strong force were not one percent, life in the Universe would not exist. Let's stop to think: what are the chances of all this happening randomly? In my view, such precision in every detail is unbelievable. To me, the only explanation my mind can accept is that everything was created by God, the origin of everything and pure love.

And, if it is not that, what I know is that I have everything to gain by believing in God, the origin of everything and pure love, and nothing to lose.

One As A Whole: Love As the Essence of Everything

There is an idea that has accompanied my heart for a long time.

I cannot prove it.
Maybe I never will.
Maybe it is wrong.
Or maybe it represents only a small part of a reality infinitely greater than any human being is capable of comprehending.

Even so, I choose to reflect upon it, because it inspires me to live better.

I believe that God speaks to us through Everything.

Through nature.
Through people.
Through science.
Through difficulties.
Through joys.
And, mainly, through transformations.

Nothing remains exactly the same.

Stars are born, shine, and transform.
Trees bloom.
Seeds become forests.
Rivers change their paths.
We grow.
We learn.
We make mistakes.
We start over.

Perhaps this capacity to transform is one of the greatest expressions of creation.

The more I observe Life, the more I realize it is deeply connected.

Science shows us that we are made of the same elements that were born in the interior of stars.

Matter is in constant transformation.
Energy participates in everything we know about the Universe.
We are part of the same cosmic history.

This perception awakens a question in me.

What if this connection is even deeper than we can perceive?

What if what we today call the Universe is only a small part of a much larger reality?

Maybe there are other universes.
Maybe there are other forms of life.
Maybe there are dimensions we still do not understand beyond those established by Albert Einstein's General Theory of Relativity.
Maybe God created a reality much more extraordinary than our imagination can reach.

I do not state this as science.
I write it merely as a possibility.
A possibility that fills my heart with hope.

Sometimes I like to imagine that, just like us, every universe is also learning.
Also transforming itself.
Also writing its own history.

And then a question arises that always moves me.
What if one day these universes could meet?

I have no idea how that would happen.
Maybe it will never happen.
But, if it happened, what would really matter?

I don't believe it would be the technologies.
Nor the riches.
Nor the size of the civilizations.

Perhaps what would truly remain is what each universe chose to cultivate throughout its entire existence.

That which predominated in its inhabitants.
That which guided their choices.
That which shaped their way of existing.

I like to call this essence energy.

Not only in the sense studied by physics, but as a way of representing that which we constantly cultivate inside ourselves.

Our capacity to Love.
Our capacity to comprehend.
Our capacity to forgive.
Our capacity to create.
Our capacity to care.

Perhaps, if universes met one day, exactly the energy that predominated most in each of them would prevail.

Not because I know this would happen.
But because this possibility completely changes the way I choose to live today.

As has already been proven through a famous study which says that words and thoughts change the matter and the water around us, which was done by the Japanese researcher Masaru Emoto, then every choice matters.

Every thought.
Every word.
Every attitude.
Every gesture of kindness.
Every hug.
Every act of compassion.

Nothing is small.
Everything contributes, little by little, to constructing the reality of which we are a part.

That is why I like to say that Everyone is One, and One is Everyone. We are One As A Whole.

It does not mean that we cease to be individuals.
Each person remains unique.
Each consciousness remains free.
Each history remains different.
But all participate in the same great Life.

Everything influences Everything.
Everyone influences Everyone.
Each choice transforms a little more the whole of which we are part.

Perhaps it is exactly for this reason that God granted us free will.

Not only to choose our own path.
But to consciously participate in the construction of reality.

We can choose to spread fear.
Or we can choose to spread hope.

We can choose to increase suffering.
Or decrease a little of someone's pain.
We can choose to judge.
Or to comprehend.
We can choose to destroy.
Or to build.
We can choose to hate.
Or to Love.

Among all these possibilities, there is only one that always makes my heart find peace.

Choosing to Love.

I do not choose Love because I expect some reward.
I do not choose Love out of fear.
I do not choose Love because someone forced me to.

I choose Love because I believe it makes any reality better.
I choose Love because it brings brothers and sisters closer.
I choose Love because it transforms the one who loves and also the one who is loved.
I choose Love because I believe God continues acting through those who decide to love.

My greatest desire is that this Universe becomes, with each generation, a more beautiful place than the one we received.
A place where people can trust each other.
Where no one has to hide their heart for fear of being hurt.
Where kindness is received with joy.
Where compassion is stronger than violence.
Where we can look at any living being and recognize a brother or a sister walking with us.

And, if someday there are other universes...
If someday our histories meet other histories...
I hope that what we present is exactly what we chose to cultivate throughout our entire existence.
That the predominant energy in us is Love.

Not because I can prove that this possibility exists.
But because, even if it never happens, choosing to Love will have already made this Universe infinitely more beautiful.

Perhaps that is one of the greatest reasons for us to be here.

To learn.
To transform ourselves.

To help one another.
And to ensure that, with each new generation, there is a little more Love than there was before.

Because, for me, God can be understood in many ways.
But, if there is a language that seems to be present since the beginning of Everything, that language is Love.

And it is that which I choose to cultivate.
Today.
Tomorrow.
And for all eternity.

The Possibility of Other Universes

There is a possibility that returns to my heart countless times.
I do not know if someday science will be able to answer it.
Maybe never.
But I like to reflect upon it.

What if our Universe is not the only one?
What if there are other universes?
What if, in some way that today we still do not understand, they are also part of an even greater reality?

I do not write this as a scientific statement.
I write it merely as a possibility that I choose to contemplate.

If this possibility exists, I like to imagine that all universes are also in constant transformation, just like ours.
Perhaps each develops its own histories, its own forms of life, its own learnings, and its own ways of expressing what we call Love.

And then another question arises.
What if, one day, these universes can meet?

I have no idea how that would happen.
Maybe it never will.
Maybe it has already happened somewhere beyond our comprehension.
But I like to imagine this possibility.

If such a meeting were possible, I ask myself what would really remain.
Maybe it wouldn't be the technologies.
Nor the riches.

Nor the differences between species.
Nor the languages.

Maybe what would matter most would be the essence that each universe cultivated throughout its existence.
That which predominated in its inhabitants.
That which guided their choices.
That which inspired their actions.

I like to imagine that this essence is what we call energy.
Not only in the physical sense studied by science, but as a way to represent everything that we cultivate inside us: our intentions, our choices, our attitudes, our mode of existing.

Perhaps a universe that learns to live by Love becomes increasingly capable of generating comprehension, cooperation, creativity, and hope.
Perhaps a universe that constantly chooses destruction ends up strengthening exactly that which produces suffering.

I do not know if this corresponds to reality.
But I know that this idea transforms the way I choose to live.
Because, if everything is connected, no choice is small.
Every thought influences our actions.
Every action influences other people.
Every person influences others.
Thus we continue building, together, the history of the reality of which we are part.

That is why I like to say that Everyone is One, and One is Everyone. We are One As A Whole!

Not because we cease to be individuals.
We remain unique.
We remain different.
We remain free to make our own choices.
But we are part of the same great whole.
One As A Whole.

When one of us grows in Love, the entire whole receives a bit of this transformation.
When someone chooses to extend a hand instead of pushing it away, the entire whole is strengthened.
When someone decides to comprehend instead of condemning, the world becomes a little more like what I believe the heart of God to be.

Perhaps this is the true reason to choose to Love.
Not out of fear.
Not for reward.

Not because someone forced us.
But because we want to leave this Universe better than we found it.
We want our brothers and sisters to find a place where they can live without fear of loving.

A place where kindness is received with joy.
Where trust can flourish.
Where compassion is stronger than violence.
Where no one has to hide their heart for fear of being hurt.

And, if someday there are other universes...
If someday our reality meets other forms of existence...
My desire is that what prevails as the sole energy in our or in any other Universe is Love.

Not because it is the most powerful force for me.
But because I believe it is the most beautiful force a consciousness can choose to cultivate.

Maybe we will never discover if this possibility corresponds to reality.
But that does not diminish its importance for me.
Because, even if it remains merely an hypothesis, it is still worth living as someone who chose to Love, who chooses to Love, and will always choose to Love.

If we all make this choice, little by little we will build a more welcoming Universe for those who live today, for those yet to be born and, who knows, for any form of Life that may one day share this immense and wonderful existence with us.

Maybe that is exactly what God always desired.
That the entirety of energy present in our reality be Love.

The Beauty of Transformations

If there is something I have learned observing life, it is that God always speaks to us through Everything, and Everyone, including through transformations.

Nothing remains exactly the same. The seasons change, the trees bloom, the seeds become forests, the rivers find new paths, stars are born and after exhausting their nuclear fuel, stars transform into white dwarfs, neutron stars or black holes, and we also change constantly. With every experience, every joy, every difficulty, we become a little different from who we were yesterday.

Perhaps this is precisely one of the greatest works of creation: the capacity to transform.

Often we do not understand why certain situations happen. Some fill us with happiness. Others hurt us deeply. In various moments of life we ask: "Why?"

We do not always find an answer.

But I believe there is value even in what we still cannot understand. Sometimes an event that today seems like merely suffering can, years later, reveal a learning that would never have been possible otherwise.

This does not mean that all pain is good or that we should desire to suffer.
It merely means that, even in the most difficult situations, there can still be space for growth, learning, and transformation.

This is a hope I choose to carry with me.

I also believe that there is something present in all of creation since the beginning: Love.

Regardless of how each person comprehends God, for me Love is the language of Life itself. It is through it that we find meaning to care for each other, build friendships, form families, protect the most vulnerable, and see beauty where only sadness existed before.

Perhaps All Of Creation began exactly from this impulse to Love, create, and share experiences.

I do not state this as an absolute truth. It is simply the way my heart learned to understand existence.

Science also shows us something extraordinary: everything in the Universe is in constant transformation.

Matter does not arise from nothing nor does it simply disappear; it transforms. The atoms that today are part of our body have already been part of stars, of the earth, of the oceans, and of countless forms of life before us.

In a way, we carry a part of the Universe's history inside us.

This perception makes me feel deeply connected with everything that exists.
We are different in our histories, thoughts, and choices, but we share the same material origin and inhabit the same home: Life.

That is why I believe our choices matter, all and each of them.

Every word spoken, every gesture of kindness, every attitude of compassion, and even the way we choose to view someone can transform realities.

We do not always notice the reach of small actions, but they leave marks.
Perhaps we will never discover how many lives were touched by a simple hug, by a sincere conversation, or by an act of generosity performed without expecting anything in return.

We received a precious gift: Free Will.

Every day we can choose.
We can choose to learn or to remain still.
We can choose to comprehend or to judge.
We can choose to build or try to destroy.
We can choose to Love.

None of these choices changes only the one who makes them. Every decision influences, even if seemingly discretely, the world around us.

We live in an enormous web of relationships. What we do reaches other people, who reach other people, forming an invisible chain of consequences.

Maybe we will never be capable of completely measuring this impact.
And maybe we don't even need to.

It is enough to continue choosing that which brings people closer, that decreases suffering, and that increases love in the world.

We still know very little before the immensity of the Universe. With every scientific discovery we realize how much still exists to learn.

This, for me, does not diminish God.
On the contrary.
The more I understand the complexity of life, the more I admire the beauty of creation.

I continue learning every day. Many of my ideas can change with new experiences and new knowledge, and I am happy that it is so.

Learning is also a form of transformation.

In the end, I believe that living is exactly that.

To transform oneself.
To learn.
To start over.
And, above all, never lose the capacity to love.

The Possible Origin of Everything

There is a question that accompanies humanity since the first days we looked at the sky:
Where did Everything come from?

To this day no one possesses a definitive answer.
Science continues investigating. Philosophy continues reflecting. Religions continue offering different paths to understand this mystery.

And I also have my own reflections.

I do not write them as absolute truths, but as possibilities that make sense to my heart and that inspire me to live with more Love.

Perhaps God created the Universe exactly as we learn in the laws of physics.
Perhaps the Big Bang was one of the ways God gave start to creation.
Perhaps there are dimensions we still do not understand beyond those established by Albert Einstein's General Theory of Relativity.
Perhaps there are other universes.
Perhaps there are forms of life that our science cannot even imagine yet.
Or perhaps reality is much more extraordinary than any human being is capable of comprehending.

The more we learn, the more we realize how much we still do not know.

This does not scare me.
On the contrary.
It fills me with hope.

If we still know so little of the Universe, imagine how much still exists to discover.

One idea, however, always returns to my heart.

What if the origin of Everything was Love?

Perhaps God did not create merely out of power.
Perhaps God gave origin to Everything and Everyone through a beautiful gesture coming directly from His "heart".
Perhaps He created because Loving is also creating.
Perhaps creating, helping, encouraging, being a companion, being a friend, being a true brother or sister with our brothers and sisters is one of the deepest ways to love.

I like to imagine that the entire existence was born from this first act of Love.

Not because I can prove this.
But because this possibility makes the Universe even more beautiful to my eyes.

I also ask myself if God continues learning along with His own creation.
Maybe this seems strange to some people.
Maybe I am mistaken.
But I like to think of this possibility as someone who contemplates an infinite horizon.

Perhaps God did not create a finished Universe, but a living Universe, in constant transformation, where each new experience reveals possibilities that before simply did not exist and that influence Everything and Everyone that exist.

Perhaps all of creation is continually blooming.

Just like a child learns to walk, we also seem to be taking our first steps in comprehending reality.

Our science has already shown us something extraordinary.
We know that all known matter is formed by fundamental particles organized in different ways.
We know that matter and energy are directly related because matter is a condensed form of energy.
We know that stars die so that new worlds can be born.
We know that the elements present in our body were produced in the interior of stars that existed billions of years before the birth of the Earth.

In a way, we carry the Universe inside us.

We are made of the same matter that forms mountains, oceans, trees, and stars.
This gives me the certainty that there is a deep connection between everything that exists and that might still come to exist.

Perhaps we are much more united and influenced by each other than we imagine.
Perhaps the "separations" we perceive are merely a small part of a reality infinitely greater than anyone could perhaps imagine.

If this is true, then every gesture of Love transforms and influences Everything and Everyone, much more than we imagine.

Every word of kindness modifies a small part of the Universe's history.
Every act of compassion makes creation a little more like what I believe the heart of God is, replete with Love, full of comprehension, full of acceptance and mercy, because whoever Loves, understands, or at least tries to understand.

In the end, maybe we will never discover exactly how Everything began, and maybe we don't even need to.

But perhaps that has never been the most important question.

Perhaps the most important question is:
How do we choose to participate in this wonderful history while we are here?

And, for me, the answer remains the same.
I choose to participate, help, encourage, and mainly Love.

Choosing To Be Love

If everything that exists is, in some way, connected, then no choice is small.

Every thought, every word, and every attitude become part of the history we construct together.

Maybe we will never be able to completely measure the influence we exert over the world around us. Even so, I know it exists. A word can return hope to someone. A gesture of kindness can change the course of a life. A hug can offer strength to someone who believed they could not carry on.

Likewise, I know that what we cultivate inside ourselves profoundly influences the way we perceive reality.

When we feed fear, resentment, or hate, we run the risk of seeing the world only through these lenses.

When we feed Love, comprehension, and mercy, new possibilities begin to emerge.

I know this may not eliminate all the sufferings of life.
Pain is part of the human experience.
But I believe we can choose the way we walk through it.

Perhaps that is one of the greatest gifts God granted us: the capacity to choose.

Choose to learn.
Choose to forgive.
Choose to start over.
Choose to extend a hand.
Choose to comprehend before judging.
Choose to build instead of destroying.
And, above all, choose to Love.

This choice will not always be easy.
There will be days when the exhaustion will seem greater than the hope.
Days when our strengths will seem insufficient.
Days when everything inside us will desire to give up.

Even so, I believe that a small step is enough to initiate a transformation.
Sometimes, a single decision made with Love is capable of completely changing the path we would follow.

I also believe that we are never truly isolated.
We are unique individuals, with different histories, dreams, and challenges, but we are part of a much larger reality.

I like to say that we are One As A Whole.

It doesn't mean we cease to be who we are.
But to make it clear that our lives are deeply and totally linked to each other.

What we do reaches other people.
These people reach others.
And thus we continue influencing the world, often without even noticing.

Perhaps that is why God invites us to Love so many times.

Not just as a feeling.
But as a way of existing.
As a way to participate in creation itself.
As a daily choice, a choice we can make at any second, choose to Love, choose Love.

Since we are part of the same great whole, then every act of Love strengthens this whole.
Every gesture of comprehension brings people closer.
Every word of hope illuminates someone's path a little more.

Perhaps that is exactly how God continues acting in the world.

Through the people who choose to do good.
Through hearts that continue believing when it would be easier to give up.
Through those who decide to love, even when loving requires courage.

In the end, maybe this is one of the greatest missions of our existence.

Not to comprehend all the mysteries of the Universe.
But to learn, day after day, to become a presence of Love in the lives of those who walk by our side.

Because, for me, that is what living means.

To choose, every day, to be a little more like the Love that I believe gave origin to Everything.

WE ARE NOT ALONE IN THE UNIVERSE.

Intelligent life in the universe exists in the 4 corners in abundance. And they are exactly that, Intelligent. The vibrational frequency of Earth is low, forget standards and remember that GOD, THE ORIGIN, THE DIVINE SOURCE, THE TRUTH AND PURE LOVE, just as He created the animals, He created man and woman, created an infinitesimal number of galaxies, constellations, gas giants, black holes, stars, dwarf stars, asteroids, comets, satellites, and much more.

Do you really think that in all this possible amusement park with such magnificent landscapes to contemplate, with unique experiences to be lived, relived, contemplated, admired, we would be the only "intelligent" beings to be created? Time after time, confirmation after confirmation, the TRUTH that is stamped on our face, knocking on our door, just waiting for our time to arrive as well, falls into oblivion. Because the fact is, we haven't even left the diapers yet.

Due to the fact that our momentary reality is of a vibrational frequency on our planet in general being very low. Few are the humans who manage to have contact with other living beings with immense intellectual capacity (absurdly greater than ours) due to the fact that they reside in the same space and time as us, but in a higher vibrational frequency.

Patience, but do not ignore everything that has already been presented time after time, day after day, report after report, governments like the United States have already confirmed and what was the repercussion? Practically zero. Review your concepts. Do you think this is correct? Is there nothing abnormal in a fact of this magnitude not being world news? Stamped on the Front page of all newspapers and all programming interrupted for an announcement of this proportion?

Just as on the material plane, there are also external and internal influences from the spiritual plane.

When living beings begin to awaken, they become free from energetic ties. That is when beings of low vibration can try to prevent this process, installing vibrational implants, mental confusion, or encouraging self-destructive attitudes. They want to cripple us spiritually, psychologically, and on many occasions physically.

While they sit in their dark corners where even the cockroaches avoid. The light, the illuminated teams who desire that Good and LOVE prevail over the wickedness of ignorance, they work incessantly through all possible means as well. So that tomorrow, the Sun still has the chance to shine for all of us. So that the Moon and us, do not lose the shine of the Sun and live in complete darkness without the Sun and the Moon, without LOVE and without HOPE, without the TRUTH which is GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE.

They exploit in all ways everyone they can, in order to exercise their power over humanity more and more. In the same way that beneficial beings possess quantum nanotechnologies (or vibrational technologies), they also possess theirs. However, they use them to inflict fear, spread terror, discord, so that more and more living beings live amid sin, believing it to be normal, to be common to commit such despicable acts that it sickens me just to think about. They desire to weaken our connection with the soul, the truth, and spiritual awakening. Through distractions, polarizations, addictions, and constant fear, people become controllable, and that is their objective.

Spiritual attacks can come from the left, right, from above and below, but regardless, we must learn to identify and protect ourselves mentally in all situations that present themselves. The ignorance that floods the black sea that we know as wickedness has some ways to try to manipulate you with the intuition to deviate you from your path. One of them is to try in every way to make you go crazy or make you believe that you are going crazy.

This one in specific squeezes the heart a lot, because they make you afraid to even talk to someone about it for fear of what they will think.

There are people admitted into asylums who are only there to live doped twenty-four hours a day, so as not to listen, or at least listen, see, or feel with lesser intensity the being or beings that torment them. They make you doubt who you are, they try to inflate your ego to create credibility as someone who wants your good and stab you in the back every time they have an opportunity without you even noticing or being aware, believing that it is for your own good that you are suffering. They will try to attack your mental space in every way possible, even trying to alter your mental visualization, manipulate your mental visualization, try to make you see distorted images, see all kinds of malicious images you can imagine. They try to influence you in every way possible and constantly and incessantly make you doubt each and every one of your decisions. They sow discord and doubt among everyone and everything that happens around you. Especially among the people you love the most and depend on emotionally to destabilize you. They will try to overshadow all moments of happiness that. They will try to aggrandize themselves in every way possible to bring you more and more to a low frequency through fear.

There are molecular-level technologies that are utilized for species recognition, to identify their weak points, what makes them happy, capable of utilizing their own reasoning against them in their own brain, they manipulate your brain with thought and the imaginary space to torment, try to deviate, induce or recruit to serve their intentions propagating wickedness and sinking them into a low vibrational frequency. Since DNA is a macromolecule, meaning, a large and complex molecule, which is constructed from smaller units called nucleotides, and their molecular weapons involve molecular manipulation for their malevolent ends, they are also capable of even inflicting physical pains on the body itself.

They also manipulate brain chemistry however they please (they regulate according to their will the level of serotonin, dopamine) for the utilization of pharmaceutical chemicals that distort the mind and plunge them even more into their web of lies and manipulations, they encourage everything that is sadistic, futile and carnal pleasures, destruction of family ties, they leave the health, economic, and educational systems obsolete, with teachings that do not go beyond the basics of the basics and serving an agenda with intentions of cerebral reprogramming, and much more. All this with the intention of enjoying all the finest things built for them by the "working class" which in this case would become the society under attack.

There is a step by step that is taken in an attack of this structure. Year after year, their financial wealth and power are cultivated based on their absurdly superior intellect according to the comparison of a society that is already scientifically advanced and another that hasn't even left diapers. They transform into the 1% of the 1%, whose power and financial wealth is so vast that they live as the dictators of dictators in total anonymity, or if not totally in anonymity, they suffer zero repercussions, no matter how deplorable the event was, the full scope of such wickedness that was committed and that will be committed again without caring about any possible consequences is still not entirely known.

They create their idols to be idolized, where they demand blood as a sacrifice to "honor" them and prove themselves worthy of their "benevolence" or so as not to suffer their wrath, whose intentions of this energy discharge that derives from the murder of another living being (which is immense, given that a life is forcibly taken) only GOD, THE ORIGIN, THE DIVINE SOURCE, THE TRUTH, AND PURE LOVE and themselves know. They utilize terror, anguish, and suffering as their weapon, which as they in their attack control the main functioning systems of society, the teachings and paths they desire for the other race of beings are already deeply rooted. So they focus their efforts on other objectives, such as the propagation of their terror in physical and psychological wars. Since their vibrational frequency is extremely low because their acts and thoughts derive from the intention of wickedness, this is the frequency they want us to be in, for the further away from a high vibrational frequency, the further away from feeling all the LOVE that is at our disposal at all times, inert and constantly waiting for us to make good use of all the wonderful energy that derives from the Gift that was granted to us by GOD, THE ORIGIN, THE DIVINE SOURCE, THE TRUTH AND PURE LOVE, which is LOVE. They utilize various techniques so that other beings do not feel or feel the false sensation that they already have the positive essential feelings that derive from LOVE. They try to substitute the best feeling, which is LOVE, with momentary pleasures, which increasingly cease to be momentary and become constant, like games, computers, television programs, and news broadcasts. Where in each and all they are subject to an enormous possibility of having negative influence to serve in favor of their objective, whatever it may be in the specific moment.

However, while there are beings who live on wickedness, there are also truly benevolent beings, whose moral character established or acquired by their society, is the compass that guides them to come to the rescue of those in need. Because they are a more advanced species with more advanced general knowledge, including on the way to view LIFE as One As A Whole, and since they have the capability and technology to intervene in aid of those deserving whom they believe need help, and those who plead for help and are deserving of help. They feel it is their duty to do everything they can in their momentary reality to help, for seeing other living beings in suffering and not acting goes against the basic moral values that derive from LOVE. These truly benevolent beings, when they consider someone worthy of help, come in assistance, psychological and spiritual support, emotional comfort, they transform into guides of a life in flesh and spirit well lived. They are beings of extreme empathy, they adapt to the situation to bring knowledge, comfort, security, and strength in ways that come from the heart and at the same time with a simplicity that is indescribable. They are the base model that everyone as a society should emulate.

But one step at a time. While the truly benevolent do their best to help, let us remember those who have malevolent intentions and attack societies.

Because the society under attack is not yet fully aware of what is happening, they remain in anonymity in whatever way they can, and if by chance someone tries to expose the real situation of who they are and what is happening, all and any evidence that, however circumstantial it may be, is evidence that something is not right, is swept "under the rug". And if someone goes to "sweep" in search of the TRUTH, and finds a "rug" packed with dirt underneath it, and tries to expose the situation, they are discredited in all possible ways, suffer attacks from all sides, to keep the attacked society compliant and serving the needs that are not just material for the attacking beings, it is not just for the comfort of a mansion, but rather, they utilize this comfort and the power they cultivated for years and years to be able to channel their malevolent intentions and make use of the energy that is derived from the fear they cultivate in the attacked society.

But perhaps, in the grand overall scheme of LIFE, these events, in my opinion, come so that in such a way we learn to go through such a specific situation so that later a situation does not arise that proves fatal or with no way out. In my belief, if things did not happen as they do, probably diverse societies spread throughout the entire universe would not be prepared for a specific cataclysmic event that would possibly bring a large part of the universe to an extremely low frequency of vibration, and with few chances of being reversed due to the exacerbating majority of energy being channeled to its purpose. So, I say again, in my opinion, this might be one more lesson we must have in order to have the chance to continue having lessons, and not live totally in conscious service of conscious malevolent beings as well. We have the opportunity to gain awareness of what is happening, and to make use of this information in a way that is useful in any and some way for us, as Individuals, or even better, as a Whole, as a Society. Thus, our hearts also fight a battle that is presented before it which would be the situation being lived daily, and in every yes, in every no, little by little, its intentions, its desires and aspirations are placed on the Scale, from grudges to unconditional LOVES. Then, relatively slowly, the clarity of our hearts is measured, whether we are going in favor of the wind that GOD, THE ORIGIN, THE DIVINE SOURCE, THE TRUTH AND PURE LOVE sent us to help us remain on the path of LOVE, or whether we are going in the opposite direction, moving further and further away from the TRUTH which is LOVE.

Our vibrational frequency can also impact our physical health, as well as the psychological too. And when we fall ill, we must be very careful so that we do not lower our vibrational frequency even further with complaints whether spoken or thought, even being frustrated and debilitated, for we are subject at every second to suffering spiritual attacks regardless of whether we are in our homes, in church, or in a hospital. We must transform our mind into our safe place. It is what must and has to be shielded from the situations we find ourselves in anywhere. It is the constant in every place we go or might go in the future. It requires constant improvement and adaptation to the situations presented to it, be it a spiritual attack or an illness afflicting us, we must learn how to deal with it, so that we do not suffer even more unnecessarily. An illness can lower our vibrational frequency due to our shaken physical and emotional condition, as difficult as the situation may be, we must remember the enormous influence, strength, and power that our words, thoughts, and actions have.

Your safe place has to be your mind. For in this situation, the breach given to them presents itself through your level of consciousness and morality. For it would be as if tuning into a radio. If your frequential vibration is low, where everything in your life is a problem, where you revolt against everything and everyone easily, where you wish evil upon others, where you curse in excess barely knowing the immense energy you subject others and yourself to with the power of thought and words, if you live life erroneously, living for the carnal, sadistic, and trivial pleasures of the world... you become subject to negative influences where wickedness is the only thing that the beings who vibrate in low frequencies know, or insist on persisting on the path of what is morally wrong. But there is also the other side, if your frequency is elevated, if you are in high spirits, if you are living well with life, you are also subject to influences, but good influences, influences that will try to help you maintain high morality or even help develop more and more each and every one of your aspects that require work. And the work is long and arduous, the road may have some bumpy parts, it may be hard to see and your headlights might even seem to dim at some point or seem that they were turned off and you were left alone abandoned in a dark ditch and poorly accompanied. But, with each hole you face on this road, which sometimes might seem like it shouldn't exist, we bump into those who are also on the same road, with the same possible problems. But there are some who will pretend that they also want to advance past the hole where your car supposedly might have broken down, but they are simply just waiting for some good samaritan to delay as much as possible, try to influence them in every possible way they know, so that they give up on continuing on the road or even bring you to their side and of others who prefer that darkness be on the entire road, and that it be one hole after another so they think that this is the true reality and that so much unnecessary difficulty and moral ignorance is normal. But it is not, and as soon as we manage to see that you cannot help someone who doesn't want to be helped, everything changes. We discover that it depends on them deciding to move forward on the road, just as it depends on us as well to get back up after every fall, every trip we take however much it may be from strangers, people we love or have loved in LIFE, however dark, dangerous, and full of obstacles the road may seem, may we remember that in the right direction, it becomes increasingly illuminated, your headlight increasingly nothing obscures it, and full of beings whose life mission (which may have been delegated to them or chosen by themselves) is to help those who desire help, be it in the middle of the road needing help or even at a possible toll booth (in a reincarnation).

We must have in our minds and hearts a fact that is simple. At every moment we are fighting a battle of Good against those who desire evil. For at every moment we are receiving and transmitting energy through all the corners we step on and at every second of our LIVES. So may we remember that at every moment, each and every one of our thoughts at every second matters TOTALLY.

The fields of GOD, THE ORIGIN, THE DIVINE SOURCE, THE TRUTH AND PURE LOVE are for everyone. But not everyone who eats of His fruits will savor their true flavor.

For just as a rooster crows in the morning to announce that the day has arrived, JESUS CHRIST, THE SAVIOR AND REDEEMER also announced that the day has arrived, but not everyone listened to Him. And even after more than 2 millennia, JESUS CHRIST, THE SAVIOR AND REDEEMER continues to call everyone who wants to hear His call to drink the Water of Illumination from the Divine Source of GOD, THE ORIGIN, THE DIVINE SOURCE AND PURE LOVE.

WE STILL CANNOT EVEN BEGIN TO COMPREHEND THE EXTENT OF HIS WORKS. That phrase, God works in mysterious ways? For me, it couldn't be more correct.

So let us do our part, that as soon as possible we may begin to preach and perform the Good, what is truly Correct, what comes from LOVE, and for LOVE.

The Courage of Transformation and the Divine Origin

Everything we need is at our disposal, we just need to have the courage to go in search of it. Let us start with ourselves, because through ourselves we are already helping the next person by simply being fulfilled, in high spirits, with an elevated vibrational frequency we influence everything and everyone, for again, EVERYTHING IS ENERGY.

Like milk that sours and has the chance to transform into cheese or yogurt. It is us, who can be reborn from our sins and transform ourselves into beings of PURE LOVE.

We can all transform ourselves. Even the act of toasting, which originally had the purpose of pouring drinks from chalices and cups into one another, thus proving to the other who is served that the drink is not poisoned, confirming it is safe to drink. Even this act with this origin managed to transform itself over time into an act of celebrating LIFE. So may we be aware that it is never too late for change, the change can start right exactly now, we just need to want it.

Before JESUS CHRIST, THE SAVIOR & REDEEMER spoke His first word about LOVE & GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE, before the first lion roared, before the rooster crowed for the first time, before the first dog barked, before bees, hummingbirds, bats, wasps, butterflies and hoverflies and countless other birds and insects made their first flight, before the first flower was pollinated, before the wind blew a grain of sand across the desert of this PERFECT Planet EARTH for the first time, before the Sun set for the First time, before the Moon, which formed through the collision of a celestial body the size of Mars called Theia with Earth about 4.5 billion years ago, before the first dinosaur evolved from a group of living beings of the reptilian class named Archosaurs, before the first bonfire was lit, before the first pyramid was built, before they questioned for the first time about what LIFE is and what our role in it is, before ALL this, we ALL already existed, for everything had an ORIGIN. That origin is GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE, so, EVERYTHING comes from GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING

AND PURE LOVE, because the beginning and the means come from GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE, and if EVERYTHING comes from GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE, EVERYTHING IS GOD, AND IF EVERYTHING IS GOD, and We are part of this EVERYTHING. We are part of GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE, consequently since we are an intrinsic part originating from and at the same time an integral part of GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE, we are in our entirety at the same time GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE. WE ARE ONE.

We are like pieces of an infinite jigsaw puzzle.
We are like parts of a cup broken into infinite pieces. However, this cup is not really broken, it is just partitioned but integrally at the same time, it transforms itself constantly at every moment, and these pieces are not apart, broken as we believe, they are each in their proper place perfectly, it merely appears to be broken, but one day, I hope that all of us can simultaneously hold hands and see ourselves as the One AS A WHOLE that we are. As the PERFECT UNION that WE ARE. My belief, is that we have existed since the beginning, everything was created for there to be LIFE as we know it, and if in my opinion and from current scientific belief, nothing is created anymore, everything transforms. So when there was light for the first time, we were born for the first time, through, by,

Not everything happens instantly. Everything has its own time since its formation in its beginning.

The formation of a star is a complex process that starts with the concentration and agglutination of gas and dust in a nebula (gigantic clouds of gas (mainly hydrogen and helium) and cosmic dust found in interstellar space), which leads to the formation of a protostar, and which, with the increase of temperature and pressure, culminates in the nuclear fusion of hydrogen into helium, giving origin to a star. In the same way that a star has its processes until it is formed, we also have our own processes until we get where we should. Step by step, one after the other, and all steps are of paramount importance. Because there is no half step, there is the step itself. The act is complete and there is no middle ground. So, may we remake ourselves as many times as necessary. And without fear because everything is phases. Including when a star "dies", depending on its mass, it can transform into a white dwarf, a neutron star, or a black hole. Some stars, more massive, can explode into supernovas. So remembering the fact that in LIFE, nothing is created anymore, nor lost, everything is transformed. May we receive with open arms our New version, our New phase, our New cycle, our New Self. Look with pleasure at this new stage, rediscover yourself as many times as necessary. For a more vibrant, more Illuminated dawn replete with LIVES in Harmony among themselves and with Nature awaits us. Always remembering GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE made all the landscapes, all the faunas, all the floras, all the stars, planets, and much more, for us. So know how to value yourself and truly value. Because you are you, and you are part of this Perfect LIFE that GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE created for us. Write your Story the way that suits you. In the book of your LIFE, the commas, periods, and sentences depend entirely on YOU, but the Final Period. Ah, the Final Period, Only GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE places it. So don't wait or run red lights believing that here is the end. Because we reap what we sow, and the harvest does not delay and does not fail. It is Perfect without Error, it only depends on us to decide what we really want to reap, and to understand that If we are going to reap or When, is not a question. It is the law of energetic attraction.

Acceptance, Energy and Transformation

For many, this journey on Planet EARTH has just begun, it is the initial kick-off in an incredible story. But for others, they are still in the same reality of a few lives ago. Our Planet is an incredible school, we have everything to take the next step to another "classroom" with greater potentials so we can reach the next step on the Spiral Staircase of LIFE in search of drinking from the Water of Illumination from the Divine Source of GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE to reach Spiritual Illumination and become beings where LOVE reigns in our hearts. Without space for any negative feeling. Pure of feelings derived from LOVE and from LOVE Itself. Whose sole purpose in life is to live happily in perfect harmony with the Universe and Nature, learning from an early age to utilize Energy in their favor to never get sick, never need to feed and hydrate, because Energy commands Everything, commands our brain, commands everything our body needs and whether it needs it or not. Everything is reprogrammable, it only depends on us having the capability to learn.

Logically everything in its own step. But having access to this knowledge due to the fact that they were already born on a Planetary Sphere where from an early age they learned to live as One In Conjunction with Nature and the Universe. And when we live in harmony with Nature and the Universe, we tune into LIFE in a way unimaginable for many. By having this established reality, they can do everything they would like to accomplish with their family and their brothers (which we all are), and focus on Helping other societies to establish themselves in the full reality that life can have, in the reality of harmony between themselves and everyone, to help them understand LIFE as One, and all living and inanimate beings as One as well. Our origin is from GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING, and we are an intrinsic part of Him together with the Universe and All things in it.

Piece by piece the puzzle of life is fit together, we just have to do our part, because we all belong to ourselves.

Acceptance. A majestic word and act. Everything in LIFE deserves Acceptance.

Because everything that comes from GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE is Perfect. We just need to see it as such and realize that everything has its own function in LIFE. Everything in its own way, whether a living being or an inanimate object possesses LIFE because everything in the Universe is made of atoms. From a grain of sand, to human beings and Super Novas. Everything is LIFE. Everything needs to be accepted in its own way. But we must also know that we can and in my opinion, we should, be better. We must know that we can transform ourselves into our best versions always. Accept yourself the way you are but at the same time accept also that you can and manage to be better. And accept others the way they are as well, for they are also on the journey with the possibility of becoming better than yesterday and even better the next day. Your best version awaits you with open arms. And it's not just you going to meet it when you resolve to become better. It also comes to meet you because when you do things in your LIFE for LOVE and with LOVE, everything conspires in your favor. You enter into synergy with the Universe. You are on the same incredible and Perfect page. The stars align so that everything works out in the best way possible. You are energy, LIFE rewards the one who plants good feelings, Loving feelings, and also gives what the one who plants negative feelings desires. Planting is not only through words. But rather through acts, feelings, thoughts, and intentions. Everything influences. Do not think it is just praying and that's it. Make the difference in your day and in the day of others. Be the difference. Be One As A Whole!

Just as a river flows down a stream, LOVE should flow in our veins so that our soul becomes free as the wind.

May fire inspire us to become like it, which has always known its place in existence and does exactly the work it was made to do. Whether by us or external forces, it always does its work, it always burns, and burns. So may we, LOVE & LOVE more and more, because our work, should be this, to spread LOVE to the 4 corners of Existence.

Since the dawn of time on this our magnificent Perfect Planet EARTH, we seek explanations for what we should feel instead of trying to put words to explain.

Everything is learning. Not always do things turn out exactly as we expect.

If a drop of water falls from the sky starting from the formation of a cloud. In the same way we can form ourselves through reformation.

If sometimes it seems difficult to see the light at the end of the tunnel. Remember that there is an incandescent Light inside each one of us just waiting for us to connect to It. Because we are in a World where we turn the corner, we have the possibility of meeting someone new, we have the possibility of creating new bonds, of reconnecting to LIFE in countless ways. Of improving some skill of ours, of acquiring new skills, of being able to inspire ourselves to be better, inspire others to be better, of managing to see that the tunnel is not so dark, we just have to take off the blindfold and see what is right in front of us, a palm away from our face, ready to be enjoyed in the best way possible, to see LOVE, and everything it can do for us and for the entire Universe. Because One was not born to be One Individually, One was born to be One As A Whole. Where they realize that Everyone in the entire Universe, and everything in it, were created together with them in the Beginning of Everything, in the Dawn of Times. When there was Light, there was also Us. WE ARE ALL ONE AS A WHOLE.

Sometimes in this world we feel submerged, underwater or even suffocated. With deafening noises, where nothing seems to be working out. Where everyone seems to be playing against us. But the game is not really a game. Life has its own rules, but the main and most important one is not to wish upon others what you do not wish upon yourself. Therefore, Love Love and Love, more and more.

Sometimes they talk, talk and talk, and even then they say nothing. But patience, maybe it was not the time for you to understand, or it wasn't the time for them to say what needed to be said.

Everything is a moment and the moments are all unique, they do not return, know how to value every second you have together with your family and friends. Know that a more Illuminated tomorrow, replete with Fauna and Flora, depends entirely on ourselves, today, tomorrow, and always.

Pay more attention to everything you do in every action. Because you need to take special care with everything, not only in situations you consider special. Every moment is special, every second is of total importance in the same way.

When the clouds close in, they are already warning that maybe it might rain. But what about when it simply starts raining and our clothes are still on the clothesline? Do not blame yourself for not having predicted that rain would fall from an open sky. Just know that this possibility exists and that an open day can turn rainy at any moment. In the same way that a stormy day can open up and transform into a beautiful sunny day full of birds flying in the open sky. So remember, the possibilities are countless with every passing second, there is unpredictability. Remember that everything is Energy and know that you influence everything with your Thoughts, Actions, and Intentions. The rain dance doesn't exist by chance. And it is even used for centuries and to this day they make use of a ritual with the intention of rain falling from the skies. Know that you influence and are influenced at every moment. So know and be aware of the use of your Energy. And it should be a universal law to restrict the use of the power of Energy for only oneself. Not to influence anything or anyone besides oneself. At least until we learn to make use of the full magnitude of the potential power of Energy in favor of the GOOD of ALL as a Whole, and in TOTAL Harmony with Nature and the Universe.

If one day a dog bites you. Do not blame yourself for not having managed to defend yourself, nor blame the dog, and much less all other dogs in general. Do not suffer because of an incident and do not make others suffer because of an incident. If the situation persists, re-analyze what was done step by step. Because something has to be done differently.

Albert Einstein once said: "Insanity is doing the same thing twice in the same way and expecting a different result". Therefore if some problem persists, see what can be done differently to obtain another result. Do not insist on the mistake. Strive as much as possible to be different.

Whoever has a mouth goes to Rome. Do not be afraid to express your feelings, to express your true opinion about something or someone. Always remembering to act mainly with compassion and comprehension. And if you are going to give your opinion, know first to analyze if it is constructive or just an unfortunate judgment without expressing an opinion of help or that can add even the minimum possible. Be the difference! Be One As A Whole!

With open arms and a receptive heart. That is how we must receive new opportunities and people. Transform your way of receiving new information. Always be as positive as possible. Be your best version increasingly improved to become worthy of truly being proud to say that LOVE is your GUIDING STAR. Be the difference! Be One As A Whole!

From the inside out. That is where all our changes must occur. The exterior reflects our interior. What is most important is what you do utilizing your garments and having your momentary appearance. One step at a time, transform yourself into the person you would truly like to be. And whenever you transform into your best version, there will be an even better one right there on the corner waiting for you. Just like the ember after going out transforms into ashes and the ashes can be used as fertilizer for plants, or even in cement production and even in paving. There is no end. There is only constant transformation from second to second in the Perfect LIFE granted by GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE.

Be your own transformation, do not depend on external factors to change for the better. Be your own inspiration or seek to be inspired by someone who emanates LOVE in their acts and words. Be the difference! Be One As A Whole!

Just as the soil requires irrigation. So is our heart with LOVE. Daily we need our dose of LOVE, and as we grow spiritually, this dose becomes larger and larger, and it becomes increasingly more natural to give and receive LOVE. For whoever lives in LOVE and for LOVE, discovers that it is the Only way that is truly worth living this LIFE. Water your day-to-day with LOVE, water your family, your friends with LOVE, even strangers deserve to be Loved by you, because we are all brothers and sisters in this incredible and Perfect LIFE originating from GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE.

I agree and endorse what the second president of the United States John Adams once said "Every 'problem' is a brilliantly disguised opportunity" you just need to have a perspective of each and every situation in a positive way. Everything can be transformed into something good. Know that the best way to start is to see situations with LOVE, always thinking of the best for yourself and at the same time for others. Have empathy. Put yourself in the other's place. Every situation has different ways of viewing what is presented to us. LIFE has its mysteries to teach us themes that are often difficult even to imagine. A situation of loss or near loss often comes to teach something, and it had to happen. Do not fret over an inevitable situation, what you can do is draw some lesson from this situation. That is indeed in your hands. It depends totally on you and only you. Be the person who transforms a situation of a glass of water practically empty, into a situation of gratitude for having water in the glass. Be grateful, give thanks for the gift of LIFE. Be the difference you want to see in the world. Start with yourself and with your family. Be the difference! Be One As A Whole!

If after several rainy days the sky remains closed, do not blame the skies. Somewhere the rain is needed and everything in its due moment always happens so that in the grand scale of things, everything fits together correctly.

Do not blame yourself if things are not flowing as you desire. Do not blame anyone. Because everything happens in its due way, in its due moment.

Anger is a feeling that must not exist in our hearts, just as contempt and judgments must not be made. Know that anything can happen, and if it happens, it is because it has to happen.

Seek to be inspired by the fact that everything can bring you new knowledge, and every moment there are countless ways to interpret, just as for some the yellow light means accelerate because it will close, for others it means patience, wait for the green. Everything is relative and we are all relative to each other. So whenever possible, respect your moment and the moment of others. A second more or less that might very well make no difference in your day to say a simple Hi to someone, can very well make a total difference in the day of another person who is possibly having a stormy day. Be the sunny Sun in someone's rainy day. Be the difference! Be One As A Whole!

May we learn from the sun that shines constantly without letting anything or anyone interfere. May we learn from the moon, which manages to utilize the light of the Sun to also shine. May we know that we can have our light starting from ourselves, and that we can also be inspired through the light of others.

Value yourself and others. For just as a dandelion can be here one moment and the next 150km away, it is the same way with our loved ones and friends. We ourselves can be here, and the next day in a totally different place. So know how to value the Now, what passed has passed, and what will be comes through the Now. NOW is the most important moment of your LIFE! And analyze if your steps NOW are being guided by compassion and comprehension of yourself and of your neighbor. Because the Universal Law of Energy Return is certain. What you give, you receive. What you plant, you reap. And the harvest is mandatory regardless of any facts. Earn it! Be One As A Whole!

Random words to the wind. It is the reality of phrases spoken by those who do not really want to say what they truly think. Be true to yourself, do not say something you do not want to say. Have the discipline to exercise patience when you do not actually know what you would like to say. Keep in mind that you have to and in my opinion must treat the next person in the same way you would like to be treated. So treat them with truths. Treat them with respect, compassion, comprehension, patience, companionship, and indulgence.

Have the dignity to be your True Self. And not your masked Self saying words just to say them. Do not hide behind half truths. Respect yourself and know that you deserve the respect given by yourself and by others. And if they don't treat you with respect? No problem. That only speaks about the character of the other, not yours. You are not them, and two wrongs do not make a right.

So, I respectfully invite you to question yourself.
Who are you before others? And who would you like to be before yourself, to others and before GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE, because it depends solely on yourself, today, tomorrow and always.

Judgments come from the left and the right. But what really matters is whether you listen or not to what they are saying. Do not let another's energy affect yours. Be sovereign in your own consciousness. Be your Best Version.

Blood of my blood. We all are. Since the origin of Times, since before the first lion roared and before JESUS CHRIST, THE SAVIOR AND REDEEMER said His first phrase about LOVE, we were already all brothers. Including in the Gospel of Matthew (Mt 23:8), JESUS CHRIST, THE SAVIOR AND REDEEMER says: "You are all brothers". So value everyone in the same way you should value yourself. Give all the respect in the world possible and comprehension. For we are all brothers, sisters, belonging and intrinsic parts of GOD, THE ORIGIN OF EVERYTHING AND PURE LOVE. Be One As A Whole!

Donate. Be it a food or a feeling that comes from the heart to another heart in need. Be someone you are proud to be. Be someone you would like your daughter to have as a father. Be the difference. Start with yourself. Then you will realize how important self-care is. After learning to get along well with yourself, then focus on learning to get along well with others. The difference starts with us. One by one until we stop being One Individually and become One As A Whole!

LOVE and TRUTH walk hand in hand at every moment. Inert at every second, at the disposal of whoever wants to see them, in the expectation that they find the TRUTH in LOVE and LOVE in the TRUTH.
And as long as TRUTH exists, the path of LOVE will also exist, and vice versa, because they are Unique and Eternal, and both are such as, and indistinguishably from GOD, OUR FATHER, OUR CREATOR, and ALMIGHTY, for He is the TRUTH & PURE LOVE.

Remember, that while the wine distills in its vineyard, do not forget the hands that harvested the grapes, do not forget your family that waits for you and not for the harvest, do not forget who will taste or not your wine, do not forget that it was GOD, THE ORIGIN, THE DIVINE SOURCE, THE TRUTH AND PURE LOVE that made the grapes that will transform into wine to please you, and last but not least, do not forget yourself and why you are making wine in the first place.

Do not wait for the last leaf and the last flower to fall from the branches of a tree to only at that moment appreciate the fallen leaves and flowers from the ground. LIFE is celebrated in LIFE. LIFE deserves LIFE. Water your tree with LOVE, and appreciate it while it is there by and for you.

If even the Sun sets, know also the time to retire for another day of work. But also know when to roll up your sleeves and continue with the work.

May we know how to value everything we possess, for there are those who do not have a third of what many have. How to complain about a fork for doing exactly its role? How to complain about a bed that is resting your body and mind after a hard day of work? How to complain about the table that is being used for you and your family to share a meal together? How to complain about a grain of rice when there are countless people who are in need daily? How to complain about the barks of your dog or the meows of your cats, if it is the only way they have to communicate? Let us know how to value everything we have, because they are exerting their exact role in our LIVES.

How to complain about someone who is merely exerting what they believe to be most right for them in a specific moment of their LIFE? Exercise the act of Acceptance.

In the school of LIFE, may we see that any and every homework assignment is a gift as great as the blessing of the class itself.

The TRUTH is Unique. Just as LOVE is the Only Path in LIFE. You can go towards it, or in the opposite direction moving away as far as possible. You can bathe in crystal clear Waters surrounded by waterfalls, springs, mighty rivers, seas, animals of all colors and sizes, or you can insist on continuing to lie in darkness in constant inertia in the same place. For you are moving towards a destination at every instant. But at the same time you can also walk in circles. Know that we already have the flashlight with incandescent light at our disposal to illuminate our momentarily dark road. It just depends on us to use it, and know where to point it. May we find our steps increasingly easier, in the TRUE direction we must go in LIFE, which is towards LOVE, and may we LOVE while we are going to meet the TRUTH.

Wickedness when it wakes up, does not take a shower nor brush its teeth, it just sometimes changes its clothes to deceive those who do not know it yet. It roams the whole world looking for who to deceive or seduce to succumb to unnecessary mundane desires that the Soul does not need. While the lie tries to its utmost to spread to the 4 corners, the TRUTH which is Unique, is already omnipresent. While the lie tries to convince you of the lie, the TRUTH gives you the Freedom to See it by Free and Spontaneous Will. While the lie brings disgust to those who know the TRUTH, the TRUTH brings to light the knowledge of the real and gracious essence of LIFE which is LOVE.
